Located at the confluence of Yangtze and Jialing rivers, Raffles City Chongqing is designed by world-renown architect Moshe Safdie, who drew inspiration from the region’s thousand years of waterway transportation culture to create an image of powerful sails upon the river for Raffles City Chongqing to symbolize the host city’s surging growth. Occupying 9.2 hectares of site area, Raffles City Chongqing brings together a 230,000-sq m shopping mall, 160,000-sq.m. of Grade ‘A’ office space, 1,400 residential & serviced apartments.

SEMCORP’S CHONGQING 1320-MEGAWATT POWER PLANT

Located in Anwen, Qijiang district, the 1,320-mgW power plant utilizes supercritical technology and is one of the most efficient power plants in Chongqing. The S$1 billion power plant is developed by Chongqing SongZao Sembcorp Electric Power, a 49:51 joint venture between Sembcorp’s wholly owned subsidiary Sembcorp (China) Holding Co. and Chongqing Energy Investment Group’s subsidiary Chongqing SongZao Coal and Power. The Hongqing Energy Investment Group is the largest energy production and supply group in Chongqing.

SINGAPORE-CHONGQING LOGISTICS HUB

In above three years, the Singapore-Chongqing Logistics Hub jointly developed by Singapore and Chongqing companies will be up and running. Located beside Guoyuan Port in south western Chongqing, the hub will facilitate the flow of container goods transported via the river to the Southern Transport Corridor railway network. The hub, which sits on two parcels totaling 670,000 sq.m. will have warehouses, services and packaging.
